

Book Review“WHO WILL CRY WHEN YOU DIE”*Dr. Pramod Mandalkar*Dr. Alkananda Kulkarni*Mr. Akshay Chougule*INTRODUCTION-

The book “Who Will Cry When You Die” was first published in 1999; this is one of the best books of Robin Sharma and published by Jaico Publishing House. The book which I read is the fourth Jacio impression which is printed in 2004. In this book consists of 225 pages, with 101 short chapters. This book follows the life teachings from The Monk Who Sold His Ferrari which was already a success. This is a self-help book that makes use of everyday instances and simple tasks to make you understand life fully. Various examples are mentioned in this book are based on author’s life and gives an indirect message to the readers to get inspired from them. Somewhere the author has used quotes of other authors and this has resulted into distraction. Most of the lessons focus on helping develop some of the core qualities necessary for meaningful personal, professional and spiritual life. These include discipline, gratitude, self-awareness, self-improvement etc. It throws light on the fact that you should live so meaningfully that after you are gone, a number of people should remember your presence and cry for you. That is the crux of the whole book. It teaches you to live your life with a purpose so much so that you feel contented and fulfilled. It also emphasizes on the fact about how easily we want to give up and stop trying in life. Whenever we stop trying, we stop living. Every line of this book sparks a new joy and motivation in the readers. The essence of the book lies in the readers and how they perceive it as a whole. The book is written in a very simple language, easy to read and understand. This book aims to impart lessons that will help individuals lead a happy and meaningful life. To craft these lessons, the author has drawn from his own life's experiences and the lives of great philosophers, innovators and writers. The structure of the book, liberal use of anecdotes/quotes and the author's easy writing style make it easy to work one's way through the book.

'Book Review: The Power of Subconscious Mind

SUMMARY-

Introducing the author of the renowned book "Who Will Cry When You Die", Mr. Robin Sharma, is famous and leading public speaker. Robin Sharma is a Canadian writer, best known for his The Monk Who Sold His Ferrari book series. He was born on 16 June 1964, Uganda East Africa. He is son of Shiv Sharma and Shashi Sharma. His father Shiv Sharma is also philosopher. He has completed graduation LL.B. & post graduation LL.M. from Schulich School of law at Dalhousie University. Robin Sharma is one of the world's premier speakers on Leadership and Personal Mastery, recently named one of the World's Top Leadership Gurus. Sharma's books such as The Leader Who Had No Title have topped bestseller lists internationally and his social media posts reach over six hundred million people a year, making him a true global phenomenon for helping people do brilliant work, thrive amid change and realize their highest leadership capacities within the organization so that personal responsibility, productivity, ingenuity and mastery soars. Sharma has been ranked as one of the Top 5 Leadership Gurus. He written more than 19 books; The Monk Who Sold His Ferrari (1997), The 5 am Club Your Morning (2018), The Leader who Had No Title (2010), The Saint The Surface and The CEO (2002), The Greatness Guide (2006), Secret Letter From The Monk Who Sold (2012), Leadership Wisdom From Monk Who (1999), Una Inspiration Para Cada Dia (2009), Megaliving; 30 Days To The Perfect Life (2003), Family Wisdom From The Monk Who Sold (2000), The Everyday Hero Manifesto (2021) and so on. Robin S. Sharma is one of the world's premier thinkers on personal growth, life management, and leadership. He beautifully crafts his writing to give the readers a powerful yet elegant idea to deal with today's oppressive life and achieve success and happiness.

'Book Review: The Power of Subconscious Mind

ANALYSIS-

For a lot of the life lesson, Robin Sharma has also given some great practical advice on how to incorporate those in our live. As is the case with all self-books, reading them is just the first step. The true purpose of such a book is served only when great thoughts move beyond ideation to execution. We live in a world where everyone is in a hurry, where one has no time to sit and evaluate the meaningful aspects of their life. Sometimes, it is vital to impact the lives of your loved ones and those around you so that once you are gone, there will surely be a loss felt. This helps you leave a lasting legacy of greatness after you're gone by giving specific tips on how to become the best version of yourself and the kind that makes others grateful for all of your contributions to their lives and the world. The book gives you minor suggestions to live a better life including getting up early in the morning, doing something you like, being kind to a stranger, and so on. All these activities induce a sense of joy in a person. If you need a little push in life, then this book is for you. If you feel you are losing control of your life, then this book is for you. If you want to live your life meaningfully and be faithful to one, then this is your pick. While most of the lessons would already be well-known, yet it was good to have them reinforced once again. Personally, I found some refreshing ideas which I would want to make part of my life; enjoying the small pleasures of life, constant and continuous self-improvement, filling our lives with gratitude and taking control of our lives rather than let circumstances dictate it.

'Book Review: The Power of Subconscious Mind

CONCLUSION-

This book just makes a good impression on our lives. It gives us new perspectives on learning, but also starts having its influence in your life, changing your lifestyle. Maintaining perspective and practicing self-discipline will help you to lead a successful and happy life. I recommend this book to be read by everyone. Through it may not bring overnight changes to your life, but surely, it evokes some questions that every reader can question themselves. Lastly I say live your life in such a way that when you die the world cries while you rejoice.